

Note:

This position requires a teacher to be able to teach Spanish and English classes in person in the Chattanooga, TN, area. While this position will teach Spanish and English classes to a wide variety of students (workplace clients, adults, young students), this teacher must be able to teach Spanish at least two afternoons a week at local schools. Our after-school Spanish programs usually start around 3 pm, so a teacher has to be available at that time at least two days a week in addition to other classes.

Job Summary

Language teachers at CSL provide quality, highly-relational classes that are encouraging, confidence-building, and effective in helping students reach their unique goals. They seek to foster community, through the connectivity of language, in all they do. They are focused on bringing people and cultures together.

We are currently in need of a part-time Spanish and English teacher. Preference will be given to native speakers with teaching experience and/or candidates who also have experience teaching other languages.

Responsibilities & Duties

- Must be able to teach classes in person in the Chattanooga area
- Must be able to teach Spanish to elementary-aged children at local schools at least two afternoons a week, starting at about 3 pm.
- Must be able to teach Spanish and English to a wide variety of students, including Workplace clients, young children and/or adults, in both group and one-on-one settings
- Teach for a minimum of 5+ hours per week (8-12 hours preferred).
- Plan well for every class and provide appropriate resources to students through CSL's Google Drive
- Work to integrate Comprehensible Input (CSL's foundational methodology) principles and activities into every class (training will be provided if you're not already familiar with CI practices)

- Check in to CSL's communication platforms (Gmail and Slack) at least once every weekday and respond to all communications within 24 hours and all internal task requests within 48 hours
- Complete all required weekly administrative tasks (i.e. attendance, scheduling, etc.)
- Attend team meetings, quarterly check-in meetings with CSL's manager, quarterly colleague support meetings with a fellow team member, and various professional development opportunities and team functions throughout the year
- Maintain professionalism and an encouraging, constructive, and validating demeanor in all interactions with students and fellow team members

Qualifications & Skills

- Advanced proficiency in Spanish and English (preference given to native speakers)
- Preferred - Advanced proficiency in another language you would also be willing to teach (i.e. ASL, Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese or Russian)
- Spanish and English language teaching experience
 - or Spanish or English interpretation experience + teaching experience (of any kind)
- Ability to follow a curriculum but also remain flexible and adaptable to suit student needs/desires
- Excellent people skills
- Team player mindset; but able to work well independently
- Passionate about sharing your language and culture with others and supporting students on their journey toward achieving their unique language learning goals
- Willing to be trained and eager to learn
- Degrees and certifications related to Spanish and English and/or teaching preferred, but not required
- Previous experience teaching with comprehension-based methods preferred, but not required
- If candidate has other administrative, communications, and/or marketing skills and experience, these will also be taken into account and could lead to a broader role at CSL beyond the teacher role

Compensation & Perks

- Opportunity to share your language and culture with young learners and adults who are eager to learn
- Supportive and empowering team culture + community of continuous learning and innovation
- Paid quarterly professional development opportunities
- Payment includes hourly teaching rate plus an additional administrative rate (for required meetings, trainings and other administrative tasks), depending on a teacher's amount of weekly teaching hours
- After completion of six months of teaching for CSL, compensation rates, perks and opportunities may increase (including free participation in CSL group language classes)
